

The Sun, the Moon, and the Stars

This will be a very basic solve the riddle puzzle. The game will consist of 3 sentences, each describing the following celestial bodies: the sun, the moon, and the stars.

There will be 3 boxes that will each need to have the correct toys inserted, in this case there will be a sun, a moon, and a star. The toys will be spread throughout the room in which the puzzle is located.

The player must read the riddle written on a paper standing above the box in order to figure out the corresponding object to be placed in it.

The Riddles:

The Sun:

I provide light, but I'm not a candle

I'm hot but I'm not a bonfire

I have rays, but I'm not an aquarium

Once I disappear, your true nightmares awake...

The Moon:

When new, he can't be seen at all

But he grows with each night fall

And as he looms over the wall

Hark and hear the lone wolf's call

The Stars:

At night they come out without being fetched

By day, they are lost without being stolen

Who are we?
